Summary of Mayberry Trial Proceedings

...and W. M. Abbitt, prosecuting attorneys. W. F. Watkins, Jr. and R. Wall, Jr., court-appointed attorneys for the defendant, were ready to proceed. Commonwealth's Attorney, George Abbitt asked for the rule of witnesses. The defendant was escorted between and just behind his attorneys, dressed neatly in a blue suit, white shirt, a grey striped tie, a brown hat under his arm. Mr. Watkins motioned the defendant that there be a change of venue to another county, a motion which the court denied, the defense taking an exception.

Witnesses for both sides were called and there was a motion for separation of witnesses, and a discussion between attorneys as to the presence of a number of State Troopers in the court room. W. M. Abbitt raised arrangement on the motion instead of the Tucker indictment, and the defendant arose, and W. W. Smith, County Clerk, read the indictment, and the defendant answered, "Plead not guilty." The defense made a motion that the sheriff and deputy be excluded. Witnesses, and the court overruled the motion, stating there were an estimated 260 persons present.

At 10:27, the call of prospective jurors began. A panel of 44 had been summoned from Cumberland County. At this time, defense counsel announcement, stating that the defendant would not be excluded save those for official connection with the Commonwealth. This motion was overruled and exception noted. Jurors were called in groups of five. Many were excused for having formed opinion in the case, and many others for disqualification, such as capital punishment. In the first group of five, two were accepted, the second group of five, the third at 11:18, a panel had been selected containing sixteen names when the prosecution waived its right to strike off four names. The defense struck off four, and the 12 men took their seats as the jury in the case. Nine were farmers, one was a salesman, one a painter, and one a county employee. Youngest of the jurors was 21, the oldest, 55. The oldest, Mr. Lucas was a retired army, stationed at the Pentagon in Virginia.

Samuel Bratten is ... pidly. Hope he will ... to walk and play ball

Mrs. Elsie W. Marshall announces the marriage of her daughter, Katherine, to Mr. Wayman Lucas.

Mrs. Louise Carter was then called and testified that she was the sister of the defendant, and that "he has been like a father to me." She told of how Mayberry had helped support the family and that she had never seen him "mean drunk." She testified as to the family kinship of various persons which defense counsel stated had been patients at a mental institution. She was excused at 9:50. At this point court adjourned until 9:00 A. M. Saturday.

Saturday Morning Session

Court reconvened at 9:05, Saturday, with Owen Henderson as witness. A sawmill worker, he stated that he was a neighbor of Mayberry and the Tuckers, and told of having gone for "the law" on the night of Feb. 25, he was excused at 9:28. H. C. Davis, Evergreen merchant was called as a character witness and excused after four minutes on the stand. Mrs. Clarkie E. Ranson, Evergreen merchant, was then called, and related the coming of Floyd Trent, Mrs. Tucker, and officers Conner and Stanley to her store, and of the calling of Dr. Christian to come to the Mayberry home. She was excused at 9:40.

Elsie Doss was called to the stand and told of being in an Appomattox restaurant on the afternoon of Feb. 25 and meeting the defendant. Her testimony was a high light of the trial when she said, "He is not the same man now that he was that day." She told of the defendant having "been turned down for more beer." She was excused at 9:56. Johnny Moore, proprietor of Appomattox Restaurant, was called and stated that he had served two beers to the defendant on the afternoon of Feb. 25. A recess was taken at 10:05.

Lucille Jennings, a maid in the Tucker home was called, and testified that Mr. Mayberry had acted strangely on the day in question. She said, "He did not look like himself."

Alice Ligget, secretary to the Supt. of Western State Hospital was then called by the defense to introduce records of certain patients at that institution. This provoked a lengthy legal debate between the attorneys, conducted in the absence of the jury. The court permitted evidence of any provable cases of relationships to the defendant and a number of such case histories were put into the record. The witness was excused at 11:00. Mrs. Madeline Wright, sister of the defendant was called and declared that he "had been a real father to me" and that he was a quiet person and that the family did not lack for anything.

Mrs. Carrie Simmons, a sister, also testified and court recessed at 11:10, and at 11:21, when the trial was resumed, there was a hush of expectancy as defense counsel declared, "Call Frank Mayberry."

The defendant was sworn, told his age, occupation, and then went into a recital of what he remembered of events of the week-end of the shooting. He verified testimony of other witnesses as to what happened Feb. 25, and stated that "I was pretty high." He said that he had planned to spend the night with Floyd Trent, and had gone into his home while Trent waited outside. He said he decided to make Tucker leave because he was not working and "doing nothing." He told then of shooting Tucker, and of sitting quietly with his mother, who was asleep, for about half an hour after "letting loose" on Tucker. Then he admitted hearing a knock at the front door and "pulling down" on whoever was out there. "I saw a man and pulled down on him." Then he testified, "I feel mighty bad about it. For myself, for his family, and for my people."

Counsel objected as to "leading questions," and the jury was excused while the point was debated. When the jury returned, Mayberry said, "I don't know why I did it." In reply to a question he said that he never "wanted to kill anybody."

Court reconvened at 1:20, as the prosecution cross examined the defendant. He said that he was surprised when he found out that he had shot the doctor. He was excused at 1:50.

The commonwealth put on rebuttal witnesses.-Trooper C. H. Wallace, Capt. Blythe, and others testified as to the condition and appearance of the defendant when apprehended.

As a "court witness," Dr. Brink, State penitentiary doctor, who had examined the defendant, was put on the stand and testified that he had found Mayberry sane, but of an I. Q. of 76.

A defense motion for a directed verdict of acquital was overruled, and an exception noted.

After reading of instructions of the court, and listening to the arguments of attorneys for both sides, the jury took the case at 9:16 P. M. At 11:18 the jury returned, and there was a pause as photographers took flash pictures of the jury, the defendant, and counsel.

The court clerk read the verdict of the jury, guilty of murder in the first degree, with punishment at life imprisonment in the state penitentiary. Motion to set aside was overruled and the defendant was sentenced by the court.
